

This is a pay-for-use service. What right does the FCC have to regulate what programming is provided?